

Personal Security

Most applications are for individuals who want to improve personal security.

All statements made in the motivation must be supported by written evidence, which may take the form of newspaper cuttings, local crime statistics, case numbers of recent crimes and similar kinds of information.

Only one weapon per person is allowed for self-protection.